If you weren't a bid proposal and services coordinator, what would you be?

What do you enjoy about your role?

I really enjoy that no two days are the same! I love the versatility of being able to do a variety of tasks and working with different people in different departments of the company.

If you could give one piece of advice to a new starter, what would it be?

Prepare to be busy and enjoy working in this really interesting industry.

Tell us something about yourself that we wouldn't know?

I have a secret passion for painting and am surprisingly good at it.
